British author Samantha Harvey wins Booker Prize

PTI | LONDON

British author Samantha Harvey has won the 2024 Booker Prize for her ambitious and beautiful 'Orbital,' which becomes the first novel set in space to win the 50,000-pound literary prize selected from a historic shortlist that was dominated by women this year.

reflecting on the individual and collective value of every human life. 'I originally thought of 'Why on earth would anybody want to hear from a woman at her desk in Wiltshire writing about space, imagining what it's like being in space when people have actually been there,' said the author, who dedicated her award to everybody who 'speaks for and not against the Earth.'

'I thought of it as space pastoral - a kind of nature writing about the beauty of space,' said the nearly 50-year-old author. She is the first British writer since 2020 to win the prestigious Booker.

Nitin Sawhney, novelist Sara Collins, fiction editor of 'The Guardian' newspaper Justine Jordan and Chinese American writer and professor Yiyun Li. The female-dominated shortlist this year included American author Rachel Kushner for the spy thriller 'Creation Lake,' Canadian Anne Michaels for her family tale 'Held,' Australian Charlotte Wood for her philosophical 'Stone Yard Devotional' and Yael van der Woude, the first Dutch author to be shortlisted, for her debut novel 'The Safekeeper.'

A dramatic increase in global sales and a career transformed overnight. The Booker Prize 2023 was won by Paul Lynch with 'Prophet Song,' which saw a 1,500 per cent increase in sales in the week after its win. In the year since, sales of the English-language edition of his book have increased by more than half a million copies, with sales across all formats now totalling more than 560,000 worldwide.

Stage set for parliamentary polls in Sri Lanka today

PTI | COLOMBO

Sri Lanka is set to hold on Thursday its snap parliamentary election - first after the 2022 economic crisis - amid deployment of nearly 90,000 security personnel across the country. Voting will take place at over 13,314 polling stations across the country, from 7 am to 4 pm local time with over 17 million voters from the island's 21 million population eligible to vote for the 225 member parliament for a five-year term.

carry out rehearsals from 7 am on Wednesday, Ratnayaka said. Thursday's vote would be the first major test of the popularity of the ruling party, National People's Power, led by President Anura Kumara Dissanayake. Having failed to secure 50 per cent of the vote in the September 21 presidential election, Dissanayake is pleading for a stronger parliament with over a simple majority of 113 seats in order to implement his anti-corruption accountability reform programme.

International Monetary Fund (IMF) bailout programme. The country is still in the process of recovering from its worst economic crisis in history as the Dissanayake government faces the challenge of meeting the IMF targets on revenue in the third review of the USD 2.9 billion programme. On Thursday, the western province district of Gampaha would elect the highest number of Members of Parliament - 19 with the capital district of Colombo from the same province electing 18 MPs.

German Chancellor Olaf Scholz is seeking a vote of confidence from the Bundestag before the vote that is regularly scheduled for September 25. However, the centre-right Christian opposition pushed for a quicker vote in the parliament to speed up the next election. In the end, party leaders across the political spectrum agreed on Wednesday on the two dates for the vote of confidence and the new election.
